Software engineer working mostly with C#, ASP.NET Core and SQL Server, plus React from my own projects and freelance work. Happy taking a feature from the database all the way to the UI, and I try to keep code simple enough that a teammate can pick it up without a walkthrough.

Work Experience

Software Engineer Present

Exceleron Communications — Lahore, Pakistan

- Contribute to an existing client portal for field operations management, working across its .NET, ASP.NET Core, EF Core, and SQL Server stack.
- Responsible for the site status tracking module: approvals that follow each region's rules, bulk imports from Excel and JSON, and the dashboard reports that sit on top of it.
- Look after internal project and task tracking, where work moves through assignment and closure, gets escalated when a deadline slips, and rolls its status up to related tasks.
- Keep the support ticketing system running and handle login and access control, from token and session sign-in to MFA and role-based permissions.

Freelance Web Developer Aug 2024

PPC Evolutions (Direct Client) — Multan, Pakistan

- Put together a responsive marketing site for an Amazon PPC agency, with services, process and case-study pages meant to bring in new leads.
- Made the contact/audit request form the main way visitors get in touch, and backed it up with testimonials and other social proof.
- Started from a template the client supplied and reworked it in HTML, CSS and JavaScript to suit them, then sorted out the domain, analytics and Google indexing.
